

Cristina L.M. Silva is Associate Prof at Portuguese Catholic University – College of Biotechnology, and is involved in research on quality and safety of processed foods, with emphasis on mathematical modelling and optimisation. Her publications have a SCOPUS® h of 24 - <http://orcid.org/0000-0002-0495-3955>

She has been institutional leader/coordinator of several national and international projects, is editor-in-chief of the International Journal of Food Studies, and past-president of ISEKI_ Food Association, member of the executive committees of IFA and EFFoST, and of IUFOST Education Committee.

Cristina is currently coordinator of 3rd cycles at ESB-UCAPOR, member of directive board of CBQF (<http://cbqf.esb.ucp.pt/>), and Principal Investigator of "Food risk mitigation tools and strategies".

Homepage: http://cbqf.esb.ucp.pt/?page\_id=469

LinkedIn: <https://pt.linkedin.com/in/cristina-l-m-silva-b0971010>

Twitter: <https://twitter.com/CristinaLMSilva>

Google+: <https://plus.google.com/u/0/103718804009534289863>