

Maria Helena Gomes, FRULACT, Portugal

Is the Fruit Specialist at Frulact and work in the Research and Technology Department since 2012, doing technical project management and being involved with strawberry producers, enterprises, Universities and trainees in planning, analyses, and reporting results.

Has a PhD in Food Science and Engineering (Portuguese Catholic University in Porto - College of Biotechnology). Is co-author of several peer-reviewed papers regarding fruit quality, respiratory metabolism and development of modified atmosphere packaging, and physiological bases of the alterations of texture and color in fresh-cut fruit.